

Profile

Dr. Eshawn Caldwell-Page

She previously worked at Mental Health Associations (MHA), in Tarrytown New York, as a Recovery Specialist and Family Peer Advocate for 6 years. She also worked at Living Resources, in Mahopac New York, as a Direct Support Professional (DSP) for 5 years. In addition, Dr. Page worked at Sancia Health Care, located in Peekskill, New York for 3 years, as a Substance abuse Counselor and Greenville County Special Needs Board, for 6 years as a DSP.

Dr. Eshawn Caldwell - Page born and raised in Brooklyn New York is the Owner and Executive Director of Autism Moms in Relief, LLC (A.M.I.R. LLC), a certified Women Own Minority agency located in Albany, New York. A.M.I.R. LLC, was implemented to provide advocacy, resources and wrap around services to families in communities that struggle with mental Health, Intellectual Disabilities. Dr. Page's vision to create this organization started in 2002, when her 24 year old son was diagnosed with autism at age two. Dr. Page has been her son's biggest advocate and has fought to make sure he receives the best services that will allow him to become a productive citizen. She has faced many trials and tribulations during the hardship of autism. However, she continues to fight her battle with manual support, which has motivated her journey to become an advocate for other families, and create a village of support and service that will help families know that they are not in this struggle alone.

Dr. Page has over 20 years of work experience with individuals and families who struggle with mental health, substance abuse and special needs.

Dr. Page's extensive Direct Support and counseling background, has afforded her the necessary skills, patience to work with individuals who struggle with different challenges and a passion and willingness to help others who are in need. In addition to her professional career, Dr. Page has been involved in community activities such as, facilitating preteen females self-esteem workshops at Brownsville Think Tank, a nonprofit organization located in Brownsville Brooklyn. She has also volunteered at the Special Olympics in Greenville South Carolina.

Her educational background includes a B.A. degree in Psychology, as well as, a CASAC T certification in substance abuse counseling. A master's of science degree in Christian Counseling and PHD in Philosophy in Christian Counseling.

Dr. Page's mission is to utilize her education, work and personal experience, which will afford her the opportunity to render services that she is most passionate about in the most efficacious manner. Dr. Page's ultimate goal is to provide a lifetime of support, resources and to educate and bring awareness into communities where people are not abreast to the struggles of families who deal with disabilities, mental health challenges and the effects it has on families and their loved ones.

"Find A Better Self, Within Yourself"